U. S. C. OF C. ASKS SLASH OF BILLION IN FEDERAL COSTS

Tremendous Reduction in Government Budget Is Urged as Washington Reveals Deficit of More Than Billion.

ROOSEVELT PARLEY TO STUDY PROBLEM

Means To Check Losses To Be Chief Concern of Leaders at Conference in New York Tonight.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—A slash of $1,100,000,000 in federal appropriations—approximately the amount of the treasury deficit for the first half of the current fiscal year—was proposed tonight by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

This extraordinary reduction in expenditures was urged upon congress on the eve of President-elect Roosevelt's conference with his party's legislative leaders, at which the re-establishment of a balanced budget will be a major topic.

Henry L. Harriman, president of the chamber, made the proposal in a letter to the house appropriations committee. It said the saving can be achieved by putting all federal activities back on the basis of 1925 operations and by withdrawing the government entirely from business activity competing with private business.

The extent of the deficit for the first six months of the year was shown by today's government balance sheet.

As of December 30, the figures showed the United States $1,150,286,502 behind.

While advice from New York are awaiting that President-elect Roosevelt intends that the present congress shall have the budget set aside, Speaker Garner today and the steps he will take to achieve it will depend largely on whether the bill legalizing bill becomes law, and upon the extent of economies legislated at this session.

He calculated that the bill would bring in $200,000,000 and expected that another $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 in economies would be recommended. But he said the amount of deficit to be looked for next year "is all a guess," adding:

"Under present business conditions, present taxes and present expenditures in judgment, the budget will not be balanced—I think it ought to be balanced."

The existing six-month deficit is larger than the one President Hoover's budget message estimated would exist at the end of the fiscal year, June 30. That figure was put at $1,140,000,000, but it was not clear whether more than $400,000,000, which has been set aside for public debt retirement. The current deficit figure also will be modified by the new, higher income tax rates. These, imposed on 1932 earnings, will show their effect first in March 15 and June 15 collections, and the fiscal year income taxes have dropped $25,000,000 and whether the more stiffer rates will offset the decline in taxable incomes to a substantial extent remains to be seen.

Harriman's letter voiced a conviction that a reduction in expenditures large enough to make clear a congressional economy "will have immediate and widespread effect in restoring the confidence essential to increase in economic activities and additions to employment."

GEORGE AND COX URGE REFINANCING OF FARM LOANS

Bill Introduced by Georgians Would Authorize R. F. C. To Make Loans Directly to Farmers.

GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—With a view to relieving the farm home owner by reducing his farm mortgage indebtedness, bills were introduced in both houses of congress by Senator Walter F. George and Representative Edward E. Cox, of Georgia, authorizing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to farmers.

Under the corporation would be authorized to make loans directly to farmers to enable them "to refinance their obligations arising out of loans secured by mortgages on farm loans."

George and Cox issued a joint statement saying:

"The primary purpose of this proposed legislation is to relieve the farm home owner through the reduction of his farm mortgage indebtedness refinanced upon a basis that will give him a clear title out of his present hopeless condition."

The proposal provides that loans will not be made until the Reconstruction Corporation "is satisfied that an agreement has been entered into between the farmer and his holder of his mortgage as security for a loan whereby the original mortgage indebtedness will be reduced by at least 50 per cent, and that upon a reappraisal of the land covered by such mortgage the fair value thereof will be found to be at least equal to 50 per cent of the mortgage indebtedness."

It would authorize the corporation to make such loans in an aggregate amount of $3,000,000,000, of which up to $1,000,000,000 shall be loaned during the 12 months after enactment.

The same amounts would be advanced in the next two years. The rate of interest would be fixed at 4 per cent, and each loan would be secured by a first mortgage on the title of the borrower. The loans would be paid off in annual or semiannual installments over a period of 20 years.

Hoover's Veto Seen On Philippine Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—A bill of the Philippine independence bill appeared certain tonight as President Hoover awaited a report from Secretary Hurley, recommending unanimous passage.

The secretary of war, as he left the White House with a copy of the bill in his side pocket, conceded that the measure had been improved since it left committee a year ago, but added he had "seen nothing yet" that would aid his opposition.

The bill, as placed upon the president's desk yesterday, was a compromise of senate and house differences, and would grant the islands freedom after a 10-year transitional period.

17 Seamen Perish in Channel As Fire Sweeps French Liner

CHERBOURG, France, Jan. 5.—(UPI)—The luxurious liner

Atlantique was wrecked by a furious fire Wednesday in the English channel while proceeding to Havre for overhaul without passengers, with the loss of lives placed early this morning at 17.

Latest available figures showed 228 persons aboard, of whom 211 arrived here during the night on four rescue vessels.

The victims either suffocated at their posts of duty or drowned when a lifeboat upset.

The wreck was still burning this morning and it was being blown in a northerly direction in a rough sea.

Leon Meyer, French minister of the maritime marine, arrived here this morning. In addition to the crew of the ill-fated South Atlantic liner, he asked the men to furnish full information regarding the fire "that this loss may serve to avoid repetition of such a catastrophe."

The cause of the blaze, which started at 3:30 a. m. Wednesday off the Isle of Guernsey, remained undetermined this morning.

U. S. Dirigible Akron Ends Flight To Miami for Races Starting Today

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Akron, giant navy queen of the skies, surrounded weather difficulties that held approximately 100 service planes in Jacksonville today and soared down the Florida east coast to Miami to become one of the features of the fifth all-American air races starting here tomorrow.

The Akron was moored to her dock at the Opa-Locka naval reserve base here at 6:25 o'clock tonight, completing a cruise from Lakehurst, N. J.

Meanwhile, fog and low ceilings forced the cancellation of the Central American race, but radiotelegraph messages were sent out because the operator was asphyxiated at his post.

The first started at 8:30 a. m. in the first-class cabin and spread quickly throughout the entire 41,000-ton vessel.

The Atlantique, owned by the Companie De Navigation Sud-Atlantique of Paris, is the largest and fastest of the passenger liners flying the flag of France. She was designed to make the journey from Bordeaux to Buenos Aires in 16 days. She had Marine corps planes which had been expected here today from Nicaragua likewise were held back by adverse weather conditions in Central America, but radiotelegraph messages were sent out because they expected to arrive here tomorrow.

The civilian fliers who left Savannah today were expected to start a 250-mile race to Miami tomorrow for the $2,500 prize money and the Henry L. Stimson trophy offered to the winner of the Florida Year-Round Club handicap.

General Electric Refuses To Yield Insull Securities

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company, brought to a climax a hearing before a federal referee today by refusing to surrender to the referee for the Insull utility companies securities held by General Electric as collateral for a $500,000 loan he had made to the utility companies.

Swope then told, in reply to questions, of a telephone conversation he had had on December 14, 1931, four days after the first conference with Insull over the loan, with Melvin A. Taylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago.

He said he had told Taylor, who also was director of General Electric for his advice on the loan, and that Taylor sanctioned it, and suggested an interest rate of 5 per cent and a loan period of six months.

"Don't you see, Mr. Taylor, why Samuel Insull borrowed from a private company instead of from the First National?" Taylor asked.

"When he had it, he'd think it over. He didn't book the cases."

Democratic Campaign Disbursements Slashed in Half in 1932.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—The pinch of economy was reflected in campaign expenditures reports filed today with the clerk of the house of representatives, showing that democrats spent only two and a quarter million dollars to help elect their president, and a majority in both branches of congress.

Four years ago, the year Alfred E. Smith lost to Herbert Hoover, the party spent $5,342,348.

Rep. Frank C. Walker said today for the democratic national, the democratic victory campaign and the democratic senatorial campaign committees, the Anti-Saloon League of America, the republican senatorial committee, and various lesser groups.

The republican national committee has not yet submitted its statement.

The interlocking democratic reports showed the national committee last year received $1,708,507, against $5,443,358 in 1932. This year, end to the committee still has the hole to the extent of about $770,000.

The victory campaign committee's report, also submitted by Frank C. Walker, of New York, treasurer of the democratic national committee, showed the party spent $881,913 and spent $576,878, mostly for application on earlier deficits.

The democratic senatorial committee collected $40,218 from June 15 to the end of the year, and spent $81,387, while the Anti-Saloon League reported receipts of $23,926 and expenditures of $23,483 for the full year.

Only one contribution of $1,000 was reported by the Anti-Saloon League. That was from Mrs. L. A. Frothingham of Boston. Most of the dry organization's expense was in maintaining its offices at Westerville, Ohio.

The republican senatorial committee said in the year it had collected $61,492 and spent $61,394. It reported no contributions of more than $5,000.

ROAD FUNDS DIVERSION OPPOSED IN LUMPKIN

Emanuel Board Also Votes Against Reduction in Money for Highways.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., Jan. 4.—Lumpkin county commissioners have voted resolutions opposing any diversion of highway funds and the proposed reduction in the price of gasoline.

Members of the legislature were requested by the resolution to work to prevent distribution of highway funds to other departments of the state.

New officers took over their posts Monday. They are W. B. Tompkins, superior court; J. E. Davis, sheriff; Ida Avery, school superintendent; John H. Moore, W. A. Hutcherson and G. C. Satterfield, commissioners of roads and revenues, and R. C. Meaders, clerk.

The county is out of debt with sufficient cash on hand to operate during 1933 and to pay bonds due in 1934. As a result of economies a reduction of 40 cents in the tax rate was followed by a 10-cent reduction in 1932, the present rate being 40 cents.

EMANUEL COUNTY BOARD AGAINST DIVERSION

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Jan. 4.—The county resources in maintaining road gangs and strongly urging that the highway board be permitted to let contracts for roadway to counties at a "living price," the Emanuel county commissioners have adopted a resolution opposing the diversion of highway funds.

The commissioners completed a two-day session Tuesday night, organizing the board for the new year. Judge Frank Mitchell, Swainsboro, Ga., was re-elected chairman. Other members are E. Durdan, Grayson, and A. L. Horton, Norristown.

The following were re-elected by the board: H. G. Johnson, clerk; J. H. Chandler, county attorney. The board decided to retain County Agent J. W. Stoenner as a receiver, and to let the board out the other county employees to save an additional $1,200 per year.

The commissioners passed resolutions, copies of which were distributed, to the members of the legislature from this county, urging the legislature to abolish the office of tax receiver and tax collector and to appoint a permanent receiver to collect taxes on salary instead of basis, to reduce the amount of costs allowed officers to pre-war basis.

GASOLINE PRICE DROPS 2 CENTS IN SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 4.—Savannah auto owners were made happy the day through a drop in the price of gasoline. It went from 20 cents a gallon to 18 cents. Some of the dealers put the new price into effect on Tuesday, while the rest followed Wednesday with but few exceptions.

With the price of gasoline going down and a promised reduction in the price of auto tags on the part of the state the automobile owners are beginning to believe that Santa Claus is watching his arrangements.

But, of course, there has to be a fly in the ointment. The city of Savannah announces an increase in the green fees on the municipal golf course from 25 cents to 35 cents.

TAX ON SOFT DRINKS PROPOSED BY GILLEN

MACON, Ga., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Soft drink manufacturers would be required to pay 1 penny tax for each bottle cap used by them and 75 cents a gallon tax on all syrup they prepare under terms of a bill drawn up by Representative T. (Pete) Gillen, of Bibb county for presentation at the next legislature.

The legislator would divide the revenue to be derived from this measure 25 per cent to state hospitals, 25 per cent toward maintenance of state appropriations for common schools and the remainder to apply against the floating indebtedness of the state exclusive of the highway department.

He said the bill is aimed primarily at Coca-Cola Company, which he says has for years collected "from the people of the state of Georgia millions of dollars and has always paid the state a very small tax."

WESELYAN DRIVE GOAL IS REDUCED TO $235,000

MACON, Ga., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Orville A. Park, chairman of the "Save Wesleyan" drive, today announced that with $110,000 already secured, the committee would attempt to raise an additional $125,000, the remainder of the sum required to liquidate floating obligations of the institution.

Mr. Park said it had been found to be impossible to raise $125,000, which, he said, was needed to retire the indebtedness, but that he thought it likely some arrangements might be made with the stockholders to meet on the school work provided the current debt is cancelled.

ROOSEVELT ASKED TO PRESS MEETING

President-Elect Probably Will Accept, Say Officials of Institute.

President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt has been invited to open the joint session of the institute of citizenship and the Georgia press institute to be held at Emory University February 7-11.

Officials of the two institutes said Wednesday that associates of the next president have accepted the invitation if he is in Georgia at the time of the meeting, and his plans now are to be in Georgia at that time. The tentative program for the institute calls for speeches by O. Max Gardner, governor of North Carolina; Charles Stephen Smith of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press; Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Harold Gosnell, the department of political science, University of Chicago.

"The Press and Public Opinion" is the theme of the citizenship institute and because of the interest of newspapermen in the topic, the Georgia Press Association decided to hold its press institute at the time of the citizenship institute.

Mark Etheridge, managing editor of the Macon Telegraph, is chairman of the press institute committee of the Georgia Press Association, and Raymond B. Nixon, journalism professor at Emory, directs the planning of the journalistic features of the program.

Other members of the committee are John Paschal, Atlanta Journal, vice chairman; Professor John E. Drewry, University of Georgia; Francis W. Clarke, Atlanta Constitution; Herbert P. Jones, Atlanta Journal; E. B. Braswell and Hugh Rows, Athens Banner-Herald; Herschel V. Jenkins, Savannah Morning News; W. A. Shackson, Oglethorpe Echo; Lexington; Roy E. Edwards, Atlanta Star; and R. E. Hammer, Cochran Journal; W. H. Norton, Telfair Enterprise; McKee, Royal Daniel, Quitman Free Press.

OIL ROYALTIES GAIN FOR TEXAS U. IN 1932

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The University of Texas received $202,252 more in oil royalties during the year just ended than it collected in 1931, figures released by the general land office revealed.

In 1932 a total of $1,201,402.46 was received, compared with $899,779.31 the previous year.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Cromulsion may be a better help than you need. It combines seven major helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is made for coughs or colds that hang on, for quick relief, for safety.

Mild coughs often yield to lesser help. No one can tell, who knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Cromulsion for any cough that starts.

The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are dangerous. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. (adv.)

COUNTY TO ORDER BIG CUT IN COSTS

Sen. Borah's Monetary Proposal Clarifies Meaning of 'Inflation'

By CHARLES P. SHAFFER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)— Senator Borah's proposal to reduce the buying power of the dollar brings into prominence a word of rather vague meaning—"inflation."

To some economists, the term means the lifting of price levels through monetary means, for the purpose of bringing more money and credit into existence.

It is commonly effected through increasing the amount of paper currency in circulation without, at the same time, having it secured by gold or the equivalent.

Mr. Borah's proposal advanced by advocates, is as follows:

Owing to the oversupply of cheap money in circulation, the value of the money will fall and prices consequently will rise.

When the public realizes that prices are going up, there is a general rush to lay in supplies as soon as possible, in order that purchases may be made before the price level goes even higher.

As a result, the urge to save stops and spending begins. There is a fresh rush of trade in stores and factories start getting orders for new goods from buyers and sellers. Additional workers are taken on to meet the increased demand and unemployment is consequently reduced.

Deflation leads to the elimination of excesses which accompany a boom period.

It is a readjustment which brings prices of commodities, securities and other things to a level more in keeping with their true values. It process corporations and individuals are compelled to take losses which from the standpoint of the country as a whole, are compensated for by the strengthening of the entire economic structure.

Deflation, under a deflationary movement, perpetuates itself and is cumulative, as each decline forces further decline, which in turn depresses prices.

Such a process has been going on in this country since the beginning of 1930.

Emergency relief committee composed of W. E. Mitchell, W. L. Gilbert, E. L. Almand, Frank Neely, A. S. Nance, H. W. Hentz and Ronald Ramsom, has given liberally of its time and effort to the relief of the members for their devotion to this work. I believe they handle this work more efficiently than any other similar group of citizens could and I trust they can earn their services during 1933. This work must go on, and some branch of our government must appropriate the funds to furnish relief to our unemployed.

Hospital Plan Not Feasible.

"This board cannot undertake any additional functions of government.

The proposal to have Fulton county take over and operate Grady hospital will not be possible on account of the fact that the county does not have the money to provide funds to operate Grady without an increase in service and no reduction could be expected in Atlanta's tax rate; the result would be an increase in the cost of government which should be reduced.

"Fulton county, for the first time to time made appropriations to Grady and when funds are available is willing to continue appropriations, but the county cares for convicts, alms patients and juvenile delinquents, about 90 per cent of whom are from Atlanta proper.

"Fulton county has proposed the construction of sewer outfalls jointly by the city and county. The sewer hazard in the county is a menace and I recommend that this be pushed as far as possible.

"Rigid economy must be enforced during 1933 and purchases of materials and supplies should be made only when absolutely necessary. No paving of roads can be undertaken.

However, those roads lying in old Mill Creek old farm lands should be paved road in Fulton county should be graded and top-soiled and otherwise improved, all of which can be done without increasing the overhead and without the purchase of material.

"Economy in administration must be the first consideration during 1933 and expenses must be reduced to our reduced income."

Deficit Is $628,474.

Following his speech in acceptance of the board's chairmanship, Mr. Longino presented a report showing the financial status of the county.

The present deficit was shown to be $628,474.45.

It was this report which gave rise to the comment on the part of board members that expenditures must be reduced by at least 25 per cent during the year.

The report showed comparative figures that the current liabilities in 1931 over receipts were $600,416.36 and that the 1932 liabilities are $628,474.45. Assets in 1931 were $2,136,857.83, while in 1932 they were $1,735,954.45.

The total receipts from revenue sources in 1931 were $4,267,638.10 and in 1932 they were $3,929,098.16, a decrease of approximately $348,000.

The total disbursements for 1931 were $6,645,772.61 and the total disbursements for 1932 were $6,774,346.62. The comparative summary of the original tax digest and N. O. D. (not on digest) accounts shows that in 1931 the total payments by the tax collector to the treasurer of December 31 were $2,418,730.96, or a collection percentage of .8773, while in 1932 there was $2,179,773.74 turned over to the treasurer, representing a collection of .8640 per cent.

Big Pay Cut Expected.

At the executive session, the matter of fixing the salary budget for the tax receiver's office occupied the entire afternoon and as no decision was reached the board adjourned until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when all salary lists will be considered.

It was intimated that a salary cut of 10-20 per cent may be directed in all departments and that a 20 to 25 per cent cut in all operations is to be expected, inclusive of salaries.

At the executive session Commissioner Etheridge said that an efficiency survey conducted by the county board is needed in setting salaries and the board voted the approval of such a survey later in the day.

At present it is necessary to fix salaries according to law. A further move for checking disbursements was made when the board voted that a shop record is to be kept on all repairs made on county cars.

Mr. Ragsdale took an active part in this morning meeting, voicing the opinion that the employee should be paid less than a living wage, but asserting that he is in accord with the remainder of the board in wishing to take all departments individually and considering each salary in fixing the 1933 departmental budgets, instead of making a single blanket budget for each department and allowing the heads to fix their own salary lists.

The county board assembled Wednesday night at a private office for an informal discussion of the salary matter and to determine what action will be followed at today's meeting.

DECATUR SALARIES CUT TEN PER CENT

Commission, Facing Tax Digest Drop, Discontinues Fire Chief's Post.

The city of Decatur's tax digest, approximating $10,500,000, will be cut to $10,000,000 for 1933, it was learned Wednesday following a special meeting of the city commission Monday night, at which Scott Candler was re-elected chairman of the commission and mayor.

As economy moves, the city commission voted to postpone the post of chief of the fire department, now held by C. W. Nunn, to cut all city employees' salaries by 10 per cent; it was said. Chief Nunn's notice is effective within 30 days, and City Engineer W. H. Weaver, who was re-elected by the commission, will then take over supervision of the fire department.

Two recently elected commissioners, George W. Wood and R. C. Henderson, and a new member, H. F. George, were sworn in by Bert F. Burgess, clerk of DeKalb superior court. Mr. George was elected mayor pro tem, succeeding C. E. Ferguson.

George Swords was re-elected chief of police, Roy Abernathy, city manager; Mrs. Mortie Stanley, city clerk, and S. R. Christie Jr., member of the board of tax assessors.

The commission also passed the annual $2 street tax and the dog tax of $1; compulsory inoculation of dogs requiring payment of another $1 to the veterinarian. The regular city license schedule was readopted with a few minor changes. The fiscal report showed that the city is in excellent condition, owing no money.

BANK ADVERTISES GEORGIA RESOURCES

Considerable interest has been manifested in the advertisement which appeared in Tuesday's Constitution over the signature of the First National Bank of Atlanta. The advertisement entitled "Atlanta—Resurgens," dealt with Atlanta's progress, and quoted from the city's outstanding leading trade position in the territory and its progress as a manufacturing center. It is the understanding that the First National plans to publish a series of advertisements during the next few weeks drawing attention to Georgia's progress, resources, and the diversity of its interests and products.

"The First National bank of Atlanta," Bert F. Maddox, chairman of the executive committee, said, "has gone to some pains to gather interesting and up-to-date information about Georgia, much of which has never been published before. The facts and figures indicate clearly the ability of Georgians to overcome obstacles and difficulties. The fact is that there are few states that offer the business, agricultural and industrial opportunities that the Empire State of the South does. This is but another evidence of the interest in the development of Georgia. The First National has always shown since it was organized in 1865."

In view of the coming bi-centennial celebration which will begin in the next few weeks to commemorate the two-hundredth anniversary of the founding of Georgia, the First National's series of advertisements is sure to attract widespread attention.

Talmadge To Confer With R. F. C. Members

Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge and Chairman Hugh Howell of the democratic state executive committee, will fly to Washington today for a conference with members of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Mr. Talmadge said Wednesday that he was making the trip solely for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the workings of the R. F. C. The governor-elect said he has no plans for applying for a loan for any purpose but merely wanted to know what course to pursue in the event he was called upon to approve a loan for a county or city.

Mr. Talmadge said he will leave Washington by train tonight if possible and if not will return to Atlanta by plane Friday.

FOWLER ELECTED HEAD OF THEATER MANAGERS

Alpha Fowler, manager of the Empire theater, was elected president of the Atlanta Theater Managers Association, a meeting held Wednesday at the Andler hotel. Mr. Fowler succeeds E. E. Whitaker, manager of the Paramount theater, as president.

Early Holden, manager of the Georgia theater, was chosen vice president; A. B. Bach, manager of the Olympia and Bankhead theaters, is the new secretary-treasurer. Mr. Bach succeeds Love B. Harrell.

The managers discussed the question of exclusive-run pictures but took no action at the Wednesday meeting. They will meet again on January 18.

LIBRARY ASKS RETURN OF BORROWED BOOKS

Carnegie library Wednesday issued an appeal to Atlantans to return borrowed books so that its shelves may be stocked during the winter. Books have been given up for lack of funds with which to purchase new volumes. In the entrance hall of the library building has been placed a box into which long-overdue books may be dropped.

According to Miss Jessie Hopkins, librarian, many of the library's books are in hotels, board houses, office buildings and private homes, and in some instances have been taken from the library by people who have left the city. Persons knowing the whereabouts of such volumes are asked either to return them or to telephone the library at Walnut 9363.

DANDRUFF A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get plain ordinary liquid soap from any drug store (it won't cost you more than thirty-five cents 35c), apply at night when retiring; use enough to wet the scalp, then rub it gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find that all the scaling and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

FURTHER CUT SOUGHT IN RATES OF UTILITIES

Carolina Firms Ordered To Show Cause Why Rate Cut Should Not Be Made.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 4.—(P)—Not content with recent rate reductions by the Southern Public Utilities and Duke Power Companies, the railroad commission has ordered them to show cause why further reductions should not be made.

The order, setting a hearing for 30 days after its service, cites the companies to show cause why their rates "should not be investigated and declared unreasonable and excessive, and why the said rates should not be revised and substantially reduced."

The companies recently announced acceptance of a commission ruling which allowed them to make reductions without prejudicing the right of the commission to conduct further investigation.

The amount of the reductions sought was not specified in the new order, issued yesterday.

The commission has just finished hearings on an order seeking a $175,000 annual reduction in rates of the Broad River Power Company, and has set January 10 for hearings on an order seeking a $224,000 annual cut by the Carolina Power & Light Company of Raleigh, N. C.

Georgia Young Democrats Confer, Map Drive for 3.2 Beer in State

Arriving in Atlanta simultaneously with the vanguard of the general assembly, members of the executive committee of the Young Democratic Club of Georgia were in conference Wednesday on that organization's plan to present to the legislature.

On the assumption that the national congress will soon pass a bill, the young democrats, according to a statement issued by Marvin O'Neal, prominent Savannah attorney and vice chairman for the organization, will ask the Georgia legislature to harmonize the state law with national legislation.

O'Neal, who was named legislative chairman at a meeting held in Atlanta right after the general election, said that the young democrats were conferring with representatives of other groups interested in the legalization of gasoline in Georgia.

"However, we are cognizant of the fact that a good many members of the legislature are inclined to submit this measure to the people. Others favor outright repeal, and in conference with the members already on the lines, we are prepared to support a definite line of action which may be evolved before the assembly convenes Monday."

NAGGING AT ROOSEVELT.

Despite the record-breaking indorsement given to Franklin D. Roosevelt in the November elections—an expression of confidence seldom extended to a presidential candidate in the history of the United States—several die-hard republican organs find it impossible to refrain from “nagging” at the president-elect at every possible opportunity.

Generally these still disgruntled newspapers are the ones which during the campaign, could see nothing but the country gone to the demolition bow-wow in the event of Roosevelt’s election. They could see no accomplishment worthy of endorsement in his entire career. Out of the gloom of the election result they have emerged with a carpenter, picaresque spirit which does them no credit and is certainly not calculated to aid the democratic administration in accomplishing the governmental reforms and reliefs that are necessary.

The New York Herald Tribune, probably the most outstanding of the Hoover newspaper organs during the campaign, praises Governor Roosevelt for his memorandum on the Walker hearing, but cannot refrain from the unhelpful and unsportsmanlike remark in closing its editorial that “one can only hope that the example of executive courage in the law’s application will not be lost on Mr. Roosevelt himself when in the larger role of president he is called upon to defend his authority and the public interest against encroachment.”

The Philadelphia Public Ledger, also an intense Hoover supporter during the campaign, in a recent editorial under the title, “If Mr. Roosevelt Will Now Lead,” refers to the “assuring, if belated, word that the president-elect is at last ready to confer with members of his party in the senate and house on a legislative program,” adding, “It was at first hoped, and it may yet prove true, that Mr. Roosevelt is prepared to assume his full responsibility.”

And so on down the line the republican newspapers of the die-hard classification tremble for the fate of a country which has met the awful fate of passing from under republican control.

How much better it would be if these outstanding newspapers would, as was the case of the democratic newspapers before the campaign, put their shoulders to the wheel and try to help push the country out of the rut it is in, instead of hindering by poorly concealed efforts to throw doubt about the ability of the incoming president.

Whether they help or not, they have at least one thing to learn, and that is that Franklin D. Roosevelt is not the type of man to be influenced by the whining innuendos of those unable to accept defeat like good sportsmen.

CHAIRMAN LONGINO.

No better selection for chairman could have been made by the board of county commissioners than George F. Longino.

The county is fortunate in having, at a time like this, so experienced and successful a businessman at the head of its county government. It means that the financial affairs of the county will be viewed from the standpoint of business and not politics.

The new chairman succeeds Commissioner Walter Hendrix at head of the board. Under Chairman Hendrix the board rendered earnest and efficient service during a period when its revenues were constantly decreasing.

For several years past the management of county affairs by the board of commissioners has been criticized by successive grand juries. All the more significant, therefore, is the action of the last grand jury in highly commanding the administrative work done by the board during the past year.

This board is charged with duties of grave responsibility. The make-up of the present board, composed as it is of men of unquestionable ability and devotion to the public welfare, is such as imparts full confidence that the county’s affairs will be administered during the present year in a way that will meet public approval.

RAILROADS OF THE FUTURE.

Fundamental and radical changes in railroad equipment and operation in future are to be seen in the popular approval in Germany of the new high-speed, motor-driven railway coaches.

These coaches are now being operated on regular schedules between Hamburg and Berlin. They are light, comfortable and speedy, and run on a regular schedule of 96 miles per hour. They are operated in pairs, giving seating room for 105 people. The motive power is the Diesel engine.

There are no heavy engines nor cars. The equipment is built of light-weight but strong and durable metals.

These high-speed coaches have been evolved and perfected to meet the modern demand for rapid transportation, with the comfort and safety of the railway train preserved. They are the answer of the railroads of Germany to the constantly increasing competition of the highways and the airways.

The Constitution predicts that within 10 years the average passenger train of today, with its huge and lumbering engines, burning great quantities of coal and oil and drawing long strings of heavy coaches, will have largely disappeared.

Developments of new methods of travel by highway and by air will make it necessary for the railroads to consign their present heavy and cumbersome equipment to the trash heap, and install new equipment more in keeping with the modern demand for economic and rapid transportation.

The Diesel-motored railroad coach is capable of traveling at a speed between 75 and 100 miles an hour, and it offers all the comforts of the present railroad coach. It takes a full day to travel from Atlanta to New York on the fastest train now running between the two cities, but one of the motor-driven coaches could make the trip overnight.

The railroad managements of this country must wake up to the fact that the developments of science have accelerated the pace with which the world has been moving onward. We are now living in a new age than that which existed only a comparatively few years ago and the system under which the railroads of America have been operated for the past decade must be changed to meet modern conditions and demands.

On this realization will depend the salvation of the railroads. Unless they meet the challenge of new and modern competition, their collapse is inevitable.

The railroads in other countries have seen the light and are leading the way in making the necessary readjustments to enable them to successfully cope with new conditions and competition.

Heretofore the roads of this country have led the world in the development and expansion of transportation facilities. We can still do it, but we will not again catch step with the progress of the world until our rail leaders awaken to the fact that they are behind the times in the service they are offering.

We are reminded that the capital in Oklahoma City has no dome. It must be tiresome for Alfalfa Bill, sitting with his head through a skylight.

Congress, puzzled as to cutting expenses, is in the plight of the fat patient who asked if the reduction diet was to be taken before or after meals.

Franco-Soviet Agreement.

No sooner had the British government abrogated the Russian trade agreement, at the request and urging of Canada, than France stepped to the fore, concluded a non-aggressive pact with Moscow, facilitated the conclusion of a similar pact between the Soviets and Poland, and now is on the point of concluding a trade agreement herself.

Just before the signing of these pacts Herr von Papen, the German chancellor, proposed a Franco-Soviet military alliance. But, of this M. Herriot would not hear. Now had Tardeau been premier, things would have been different. Herriot, to the contrary, has made a speech in which he greeted “the people of the Soviet Union” and wished them peace and prosperity. The pact with France is considered Russia’s reply to Britain for breaking the trade agreement. It is expected that the general exchange of goods will now pass to France. As a matter of fact, the Manchester Guardian reports the cancellation of contracts in Britain and their transfer to France.

France is going to make motor cars as well as oil tanks and machines. The change in policy in France is of the greatest significance in that it produces an entirely new alignment in Europe. The danger of war recedes in the background. The possibility of a united anti-soviet front for French nationalists has been markedly expanded, and the relationship between Pierre Bourges, François Coty and Aymard, is farther away than ever. Some observers also sit in a rebuke on the part of France to the czarist emigres in France, from whom midst came the murderer of President Doumer.

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO MRS. AUGUSTINE

71-Year-Old Atlanta Fell in Grae at Home Here
Last Sunday.

Burns which she received when her clothing caught fire as she stood in front of an open grate in her home Sunday morning proved fatal Wednesday night to Mrs. Ethel Augustine, 71, of 440 Capitol Avenue, S. E. Mrs. Augustine died at Grady hospital after doctors had expressed the hope that she would recover.

A passing motorist heard Mrs. Augustine scream and rushed into the house to find her son, Abe Augustine, attempting to smother the flames with a blanket. The motorist, whose name was not ascertained, took the elderly woman to Grady hospital.

Mrs. Augustine was a native of Odessa, Pa., where she came from that country to Atlanta about 28 years ago. Her husband, a retired merchant, died 10 years ago. Surviving are four sons, Morris Augustine, of Miami; Abe Augustine, of Sarasota; and Abe Augustine, of Atlanta, and a daughter, Mrs. Philip Katz, of Lake Wales, Fla.

Funeral rites will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of the Rabbi T. Geffen, officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Sims Will Entertain Talmadge and Solons

Senator Walter A. Sims, of Atlanta, will entertain Governor-elect Eugene Talmadge and members of the incoming senate and house of representatives at a dinner Monday night in the Hotel Grand hotel. It was announced Wednesday.

In making announcement of the dinner Senator Sims said the affair would be purely informal and was being given in order that new members of the two divisions of the legislature might become acquainted before the opening of the inaugural of the new governor Tuesday morning. The state and house will hold their first joint session.

The legislature is to convene Monday morning for the purpose of organizing itself and inaugurating the governor. The law provides that a 10-day session will be held for the purpose and that afterwards a part or all of the regular biennial session, set for July, may be advanced. It is expected that at least half of this regular session will be advanced to follow immediately after the organization meeting.

GEORGIA LEADERS TO CONFER TODAY ON TOURIST TRADE

Advantages of capitalizing on tourist business will be discussed at a meeting of Georgia hotel men and promoters of Atlanta at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Athletic Club. Gator Woodford, president of the Retail Credit Company, will be host and will preside.

Clark Howell Sr., editor of The Constitution, will be the speaker. Mr. Woodford announced. Howard Coffin, prominent Georgia developer, who is attending a cotton meeting here, will be a guest. Mayor James L. Key also has been invited to attend.

"The tourist industry is the biggest in the world," said Mr. Woodford Wednesday. "Figures show that the tourist will spend at least $10 a day in each city he visits, and there is no doubt that it is to the great advantage of the state to sell Georgia to tourists."

"What we want to do is to make it so pleasant in Georgia for tourists that they will linger several days instead of just passing overnight. Our state has as many points of interest as any other, if not more, and this should be brought home to the tourists," Mr. Woodford said.

SHROPSHIRE WINS CONVENTION TRIP

A. J. Shropshire, general agent in Atlanta for the Pan-American Life Insurance Company of New Orleans, has qualified through his life insurance production during the current year to attend his company's home office convention and will leave for New Orleans next Saturday. The convention, which will take place January 9, 10 and 11, will be attended by agents from 23 states included in the company's domestic territory.

While devoted principally to business matters, the meeting will include a number of entertainment features for women and other guests. Also attending the convention as members of the Atlanta delegation will be H. S. Stelle, J. R. Riley, E. W. Andrews and W. W. Howington.

COLDS GO THROUGH 3 STAGES!

And They are Far Easier Stopped in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily passes through three stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucus Secretion Stage. Relief is twice as easy in the first stage.

For prompt relief take a couple of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine immeidately upon catching cold. This will easily expel the cold overnight and thus prevent the spread of the infection within your system.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is effective because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, kills the cold germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and a grippe feeling. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful. May be safely taken by young and old and whether you stay indoors or out. There is absolutely no irritancy attached to its use. For more than 40 years it has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—30c and 50c. Get yourself a package today and be ready for any cold that may come along. Say "NO" to a substitute!

NOTE: During Epidemics a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine every morning and night will do much to keep your system immune.

"Here's Smoke in Your Eye!" Says Square Garden

Around the wall of the bar at Maimie Kelly's cabaret, the most famous in Panama City, is a line of pictures, portraying the better-known fighters of the past and present.

And under the photograph of Jack Sharkey, one-time sailor on a United States battleship and now world's heavyweight champion, a prosperous citizen and a taxpayer of Boston, some angry person has written: "Aw nerts!"

The champion of the world seems to be himself again. And I can feel the smoke in my eyes. (Madison Square Garden never asks whether it may smoke or not.) The heavyweight situation, after a fall and winter of stumbling around with Carnera, Schaff, Poreda and others of that ilk, is coming to life.

The champion of our little globular bit of earth and stone and water has uttered one of his old-time blasts.

"Max Schmeling is yellow," he asserts. "I knew it when he won the title from me lying on the floor claiming a foul! And I knew it again when I beat him last summer. He would not come in and fight with me because he knew I would knock his head off.

"And as for Dempsey, he is such a bum now that he cannot get a license to fight."

All this indicates that the smoke is going up and that the heat will be on for the June show—whatever it may be. The Schmeling-Baer fight, with Dempsey as promoter, is scheduled. But it may be supplanted.

At any rate, it is encouraging to find that the world's champion has finally come out of his retirement and begun to blast the boys about with his customary hysteria and garrulity.

It augurs well for the game. Maybe the tide has turned. Can that be prosperity sticking its head around the corner?

THAT SHARKEY-SCHMELING BATTLE.

I dislike to drag out the Sharkey-Schmeling argument once more. But the fact remains that I have always been puzzled as to why Max Schmeling was accorded so much sympathy. He is a fine boy. But so is Sharkey a pleasant sort of fellow. They are both in the same trade and both making a living out of it. And one has one method and the other another.

Schmeling won his title on the floor. He lost it by trying to box the best boxer in the business. Whether he deserved to lose the fight at New York last spring is still a moot question. I thought Schmeling was decisively out-boxed. Whether he was or not the fact remains that he did not fight that night but boxed. There was none of the tearing savagery that had marked his butchery of W. L. Stribling in a previous fight nor none of the expert cutting up of the physical frame which he showed in beating Mickey Walker.

If they meet again—with the aging Sharkey a year older—I think Sharkey would win in 10 rounds. In 15 I feel sure that Schmeling would win. He would not again make the mistake of waiting for the last five rounds, thinking that Sharkey would be all gone by then.

At any rate, 10 rounds or 15, the smoke-up is on.
It rings so happily and so clearly on the frosty air that it makes one feel better.

We may now expect an announcement from Joey Jacobs, the smartest ring manager in the business, concerning Jack Sharkey. They will be no kinder and no friendlier than the reverse encomiums which Jack Sharkey uttered. One may lay to that.

And Dempsey will repeat that Sharkey is the one man he KNOWS he can beat.

Isn't it fine? Things are certainly looking up. Let's have more smoke—even if it does get in one's eyes.

DEMPSEY DENIES ATLANTA ENGAGEMENT.

Jack Dempsey, in a message to this corner, declares the only engagement he can announce is his Schmeling-Baer fight; said fight now awaiting the best offer.

For some time the gossips in New York have reported Dempsey to be engaged to a young lady from Atlanta, now visiting in New York.

"She is a very lovely girl and a friend of mine," says Dempsey in his message, "but there is no engagement. The only engagement I can announce is the Schmeling-Baer fight."

Dempsey should be successful as a promoter. His name will pull in many who would not go to see the fight itself. Not since John L. Sullivan wore the purple robes of fistiana's royalty has a man captured the public fancy as Dempsey.

Should he land the fight for the world's fair at Chicago he should make a killing. Even in these times.

GIVE MIKE A GREAT BIG HAND.

Mike Chambers has been appointed head track coach at Georgia Tech—and no fellow ever deserved promotion more.

Mike is loyal, willing and competent, a rare combination. Coach W. A. Alexander brought Chambers to Tech after the 1928 Olympic games, in which Chambers was trainer for the field event men of the United States team.

Mike, who wears the shamrock on St. Patrick's Day, went through Illinois, where he was a teammate of Red Grange and Jim McMillen, wearing the name of "Swede" to his great distress.

His hair is tow-like that of all Swedes. And when Bob Zuppke saw him as the football season opened, he asked, "Are you a Swede?"

"No," said Chambers, "I am Irish." "No," said Zuppke, "you are a Swede."

And so "Swede" it was through the college career.

Mike will make a success of his track work. He is a great fellow and deserves the big hand the announcement will receive.

WEBER'S FOURTH YEAR.

Henry Weber is starting on his fourth year as wrestling promoter in Atlanta. He received some undeserved bad breaks in 1932.

Weber is an unusual promoter. He came when the wrestling game was at a very low ebb. He built it up to a point where it is a real attraction. He has been in Atlanta for more than three years. He has paid his bills, made friends, fought only for his rights, and stuck strictly to his own business.

All of which marks him as an exception among promoters. His payments to the city on rental and taxes runs into several thousand each year. He deserves better breaks for 1933.

MAXIE YELLOW, SHARKEY SAYS; PANS DEMPSEY

Champion Charges German Dodged Him; Says Mauler Is Sorry.

By Henry McLemore,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(UP)—In a dingy little dressing room of the St. Nicholas arena, Maxie Yellow, heavyweight champion, was slipping on fighting togs to pose for a few shots by the cameras.

As he slipped new laces into his shoes Jack talked. And he talked mostly of Max Schmeling and Dempsey, two men he loathes. You know by the scorn in his voice and the way his eyes narrowed into slits when he spoke.

"Schmeling's yellow, he ain't got any moxie," said Dempsey. Listen, he's yellow! I found it out in our first fight when he took the title away from me. He's yellow, too. I'm not yellow, but he is.

Opposition Seen To Farm Aid Bill

Chief Threat to Democratic Measure Is Toward Taxation Features

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(P)— Serious and determined opposition to the taxation features of the democratic farm relief bill was mustering tonight on the eve of consideration of the plan by the house.

While two members of the farm board gave their approval in principle to the emergency aid legislation during the day the indications grew that the administration's supporters' efforts will be made to add rice, sugar, meat and dairy products to the four major staples already in the hill-cotton, wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs.

But the chief threat to the measure as it now stands lies in a determination by both house and senate committees which hit the average consumer.

The bill is sponsored by Chairman Jones, of the agriculture committee and is believed generally in the house to have the support of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt. It provides the farmer a minimum price by levying and distributing to him a processing tax sufficient, together with the actual market price, to bring his receipts up to the pre-war parity with industrial commodities. On its acreage or production 20 per cent.

Opponents contend the processing fee is "a giant sales tax" which will put a burden on the consumer mounting hundreds of millions of dollars. Its critics reply that prices on the retail products will not be increased appreciably.

In his report to the house, Jones said the measure "gives protection to the interests of the consumer" because it can be used by the agricultural interest to force consumers to pay a higher percentage of their incomes to farmers than was the case before the war."

The Texas said evidence showed "the prices of the principal farm products have been greatly advanced by the imposition of the adjustment charges" and noted that 1913 bread prices about approximated those of today, though wheat then was more than twice as high.

Jones said that with the price of live hogs 4 cents a pound lower, the price of ham is 7 cents a pound higher than in 1913 and that pork chops also cost more.

James C. Stone, chairman of the farm board, and Carl W. Wadsworth, general manager, both considered the bill "a step in the right direction" and praised especially its provisions for curtailing production. But both saw difficulties in its way and stressed "the tremendous task of administration."

The tax plan was stressed in a minority report submitted by Representative Clarke, republican, New York, and signed by the six republicans and eight democrats who voted against the bill in committee.

"It is our fear that if the consumers are forced to pay a general adjustment tax, which is a magnified sales tax upon the necessities of life, they will discontinue the use and purchase of the taxed articles and resort to substituting," the report said.

"If the consumers are driven to the use of substitutes, it means that the producers of the taxed commodities will be compelled to pay the tax by taking less for such commodities when sold to the processor."

"We believe that the imposition of tax as proposed in the bill which provides that such tax shall be distributed among given class of people is unconstitutional."

"We believe the bill is unworkable. The administration will necessarily create an enormous addition to the government personnel . . . adding to the burdens of an already overtaxed people."

"The American people desire legislation which will save their homes, result in less bureaucracy in government, lower taxes, lower interest rates."

9 Eligible To Contest Will of Ella Wendell

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(P)—Nine persons remained tonight eligible to contest the will of the late Ella Wendell, discussing her estate with her attorney at $400,000,000, after Surrogate James Faler completed his hearings on the 2,293 claims that had been filed.

In his final opinion of 6,000 words, the surrogate dismissed the claims of five residents of Tennessee—Hattie Dickey, Mrs. John G. O'Brien, Mattie Dew and Addie Way and May Dew Annrose, both of Nashville.

The opinion stated that the only persons recognized as the closest relatives of Miss Wendell, being related in the fifth degree of consanguinity, are: Rose Dew, Stansbury of Vicksburg, Miss.; Grace McQuarrie, Leah R. Butler, Edieva B. Irwin, Gail R. Waite, Effie B. Bush, Holland V. Barney, Hattie R. Simmons and the estate of Laura O. Harrison.

Richmond Reporters Get Access to Records

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 4.—(P)—Official records of the city of Richmond were made available to newspapermen without restriction today following Mayor Bright's announcement yesterday "severing diplomatic relations" with the Press and subsequent statement by Police Chief R. P. Jordan that he had severed relations with the local papers "until they treat the mayor friendly."

News Leader reporters visiting city departments had access to public papers, including police records, which already had been made through the hands of Chief Jordan, but it was explained that arrests and other entries made on blotters at precinct stations were confidential data, did not become public documents until they had reached the department head, and that desk officers and members of the detective force were forbidden to give out any news.

Arrest No Bar To Man Seeking Police Position

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—(P)—An arrest or two is no blemish on one's record when applying for a police man's job. Richard J. Collins, president of the city civil service commission, said.

If it was, he added, it would be difficult to find candidates for police jobs, for he said has found that most Chicagoans have been arrested at one time or another, and conduct the latter usually meaning speakeasy fights he explained.

TIME FOR CASH DOLE, SENATE BODY IS TOLD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(P)—America was depicted today as having reached a point in its economic misfortunes at which a direct distribution of cash to the jobless is essential.

Testifying at hearings on the La Follette-Costigan $500,000,000 relief measure, Karl De Schweinitz, executive secretary of the Philadelphia Community Council, said: "I think to me the time has come when a certain amount of relief must be given in cash."

The bill, which is the spearhead of the drive for legislation at this session of congress to help the unemployed, would provide outright grants of funds to the states with no provision for distribution of cash to individuals.

De Schweinitz argued that under present relief methods it is usually possible to provide little more than food, clothing, shelter, and that households should have a small amount of money to meet other needs, for example, medicine.

Among the succession of witnesses was Rabbi Sidney E. Goldstein, New York, representing the joint committee on unemployment organizing in many parts of the United States, and added that their mood "could easily translate itself into action that you and I would regret."

Economists Rap Proposals For New Monetary System

By SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE,

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(UP)—In

its theory that the machine age has increased mankind's productive power beyond humanity's capacity to absorb the flow of manufactured products, technocracy presents no new suggestion. In fact, every economist agrees with that.

But in its theory that this new age must be paid by the process of increasing the quantity of goods sold by trade expansion, in a vicious circle, by increasing machinery to step up further production. But the very manner in which the machine age increases mankind's power of consumption—and there you are, where you started from, with the wealthy man still piling up what he thinks are debts, but what is actually nothing but other people's debts, his.

The technocrats say that the price system, which is the yardstick by which work and production are measured, may have been fitted for past ages, but is not suited to the new era down and useless as a measure today.

In their attacks on the price system, technocrats point out that not even the followers of Karl Marx, the socialists, or the communists have advocated doing away entirely with monetary standards. Technocracy would wipe them out and measure labor and production by some unit of energy—the erg and the joule, or perhaps the calorie. How mankind is going to live on ergs, or transport ergs over ergs, the technocrats do not say.

But the theory is this: All forms of energy can be measured in ergs. A dollar may be worth, in buying power, so much today and more or less tomorrow. A unit of work or heat, or energy, changes nothing about it.

When you ask technocrats, then, what they propose to do, they shrug their shoulders.

Furthermore, the price system op-

The Tobacco Crop may be Short this Year

but that can't affect Chesterfield—why?

Production of tobaccos usable for cigarettes or "roll your own."

U. S. crop (average, 5 yrs., 1927-31) . 1,091,265,750 lbs.

U. S. crop (Govt. estimate, 1932) . . . 751,601,000 lbs.

Estimated shortage, 1932 crop . . . 339,664,750 lbs.

The manufacturer of good cigarettes does not depend on any one year's crop. He knows that to keep up the quality of his brand, he has to carry on hand at all times a large stock of the right kinds of tobacco from several years' crops.

To do this requires a great deal of money—for example, there is invested in the domestic and Turkish tobaccos for Chesterfield Cigarettes over $75,000,000.

Smokers can be assured, regardless of the crop conditions, that Chesterfield will be absolutely uniform—the same yesterday, today, at all times. The cigarette that's milder—the cigarette that tastes better!

MacDowell Program Presented By Atlanta Music Club Members

Observing the anniversary of Edward MacDowell's death and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Peterboro Colony the Atlanta Music Club at the regular morning musicals held every morning in the Atlanta Woman's Club presented a program consisting of compositions by this greatest of all American composers. The spirit of realization of the value of MacDowell's works was prevalent throughout the program. Mrs. Armand Carroll took the lead in presenting the Peterboro Colony, an idea of MacDowell's perpetuated by his widow where musicians, sculptors, artists and writers may create under ideal conditions, described as the most beautiful dream come true in the Americas, an world.

An effective solo for clarinet, "At an Old Trygating Place" (from Woodland Sketches), floated in lovely tonal poetry from behind the curtains played by Houston White, with Mrs. Margaret Morrison accompanying. Lowering the curtain solo the curtains were drawn to reveal three dancers, Misses Margaret Morgan, Katherine Echoles and Frankie Marbury, posed as water lilies. Gradually the living water lilies unfolded to give a beautiful interpretation of "The Water Lily." The same group gave a spirited and graceful dance picture of "In Autumn." Miss Morgan danced a solo Personal Observations of a Tired Mind. It is rumored that W. E. McKenney will be with us by the time the lists are printed. At present one of the best in the American Bridge League, the organization that is holding the big individual championship next week at St. Petersburg, Fla. From present indications several players from this city will be in the first deal in made in what promises to be one of the greatest bridge events ever staged in this part of the country. McKenney, while in the city, will visit the various bridge clubs and probably sound out prospects for the Georgia state tournament, which will likely be held here in the early spring.

That Mrs. R. S. Gains of Athens, never played in a duplicate tournament until last spring. That since her advent into this field of competition she has accounted for ten tournaments.

That Erskine Jones is probably the greatest bridge player in the country, or in Atlanta. Erskine wins plenty of tournaments but it is in coming second that he shines. Something like 22 times Erskine has been nosed out of first place. That ought to be something of a record.

That Bill Meador was running like a man o' war in the individual tournament at the Cavendish Club Tuesday evening until he hit the middle of the stretch. When the boys and girls turned for home Bill looked like he might be with us by the time the lists are printed.

That Captain Billy Roper will have to kill many a bird in Florida on his present trip if he intends to give away all he has promised on his return.

Well, it was none other than Mrs. R. S. Crane and Erskine Jones who galloped to victory in the Monday evening tournament at the Mayfair Club. Their 99 1/2 points just nosed out Mrs. B. C. Dickenson and Dr. J. C. Covington, who accounted for 88 1/2. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Gage, with 88, were third.

That Captain Billy Roper will have to kill many a bird in Florida on his present trip if he intends to give away all he has promised on his return.

His rights under the new rules are not clear, however, his newest weapon is the power under certain situations to call for a new deal. This penalty was not in the old laws, but under the new laws many infractions of the rules will be penalized by allowing Mr. L. H. O. to call for the hand unless you know it already, is "Left-Hand-Opponent."

In fact, it would appear from scores made in recent tournaments that it requires fewer points to win than it does a few months ago. One possible reason is that the simple plan of getting better. There was a time when a 65 per cent game would have some trouble in winning. Those were the days when as high as 70 per cent scores were being recorded.

You must mark as a fact that the closer the competition and the better balanced the field the lower the score required to win. Conversely, if a field contains only two or three strong teams, it is natural that the stronger team is going to make his score at the expense of the weaker ones and a higher figure will be required to win.

Are you one of the many women who have suddenly discovered that your husband is no longer interested in you? Before you start pitting yourself to be sure that you are not at fault. A man may feel sympathetic towards a dull, listless wife, but can he really love her? Women who allow themselves to be run over by their husbands will find that their personal appearance suffers and their husbands' eyes wander to others. It is impossible to be your happy, healthy, normal self unless you body functions normally.

If you are tired and listless, eating and are troubled with stomach gas, if you are nervous, do not sleep well and suffer with headaches —you are probably a victim of that most common disease, Intestinal Stasis.

What Is Intestinal Stasis? Intestinal Stasis means the too slow movement of waste food matter through the bowels. Due to intestinal weakness this waste matter remains too long in the intestines and gives gas and poisons. Intestinal Stasis is not a new name for constipation for you can have one, or possibly two, incomplete bowel movements every day and still have Intestinal Stasis. Intestinal Stasis is a physical and physiological disease.

DO you think anything is worth dying for?" Meg asked a little eagerly. General Yen smiled. "The subtlety of women is overrated."

"You are very confusing."

"Which cannot be said of you, dear lady," he answered gallantly. "You would like to know what would die for a woman—am I right?"

"Because I've found that women seldom deviate very far from their main passions in life."

"Which are—"

"Love and vanity."

"I have not answered but looked down smugly at her finger. "Have you ever read our poetry, Miss Davis?" General Yen went on.

purely lovers, than the Chinese."

Megan was obviously confused.

"Why do you tell me this?" she asked, trying to speak indifferently. "Simply to show you how unaware you are of the fundamental feelings of people around you," he answered gently. "People whom you wish to help to change."

As Megan looked at him as he said this, he seemed to be transformed into—the masked man of her dream. She rose suddenly, feeling uncomfortable and slightly angry with herself.

"Perhaps we ought to end this discussion," she said curtly.

"Certainly, if you find it objectionable," sighed the young general.

"But I wish you didn't because I see clearly that I'm not a human being to you, at all; simply a problem, a man under a glass jar."

Megan Davis felt very small.

General Yen waved his hand depreciatingly.

"Not at all. It's just that you're too young."

"I'm not so young as you think!" she retorted indignantly.

"I'm sorry. I'm afraid I've been rating you."

General Yen waved his hand depreciatingly.

Youth does not like to be belittled.

General Yen saw the effect his remarks had upon Megan.

"But you are doing your role," he said lightly. "Here I am trying to change your attitude when you should be converting me!"

She turned toward him slowly, unable to suppress a sympathetic smile.

Megan Davis reluctantly returned to her seat on the long, darkened terrace. She sat there for a long time, thinking about—well, just thinking.

Suddenly she heard a low whistle coming from the courtyard below. Almost immediately the window of the adjoining bedroom opened, and Mah-Li glided out silently.

She didn't see Megan as she stepped over to the railing. A young Chinese officer stepped out of the shadows and moved toward her, smiling lovingly to each other for some moments, then the young officer drew a handkerchief from his pocket, solemnly tied two knots in it, and threw it gently to Mah-Li. She caught it gracefully and pressed it to her breast, sighing. Then she stooped down and removed a silken slipper, which she threw to her lover, who in turn gazed at it with grave devotion and placed it inside his military jacket. After saying numerous silent farewells, the golden girl disappeared in the summer palace of General Yen, China.

Letters and silk wrapped packages appeared into the shadows. Mah-Li stood gazing after him, an indefinable ecstasy lighting her face. As she stepped into her bedroom, Li spied Megan, who had been a silent observer of the proceedings. The Chinese girl stared at her for a moment, then turned and entered her bedroom.

Mah-Li entered Megan's bedroom a short while later, proffering her a jacket. After saying numerous silent farewells, the golden girl disappeared in the summer palace of General Yen, China.

Megan asked sympathetically,

"Nothing—only I've come to say good-bye. I'm leaving at daybreak."

"You mean—running away?"

"No, the General is sending me away."

She sat on Megan's bed in stoical silence. Megan put her hand on Mah-Li's shoulder. "I'm sorry, Mah-Li, but it may be the best thing for her end. You could never be happy here."

"Does Captain Li know?"

"He will see that I am not here."

Mah-Li looked at Megan pitifully.

"She silently stripped her fingers of her beautiful jade rings. 'Will you do a favor for me?'

"Of course."

"Send them to my parents when you get back to Shanghai. They live in Soochow, and they are very poor."

"Here, I have written it down for you."

Megan took the paper she offered her. "Why don't you send them yourself, Mah-Li?"

"Megan recited the address.

"No, no! That is impossible! You guards will come and take me away. And then—somewhere along the road—

"You mean they'll rob you?"

"Somewhere along the road," Mah-Li repeated sadly, "they will change me—into a memory."

Megan recoiled in horror. "Mah-Li?"

"Yes, that is the punishment for a female who is disloyal in the Master's house."

"A week ago I wouldn't have believed such things could happen," said Megan grimly, "even in China."

She walked to the door purposefully. Mah-Li was alarmed. "What are you going to do?"

"See the General," Megan called over her shoulder.

"Captain Li bowed and Megan nodded politely.

"May I ask what I have done to deserve the honor of a visit from you at this hour?" asked the General in surprise, as Megan entered his study.

"It must be very important."

"It is," answered Megan pointedly.

"Well?"

"Does she have to be murdered?"

General Yen nodded agreeably. "Put out of the way, yes."

"Just to satisfy my petty jealousy," Megan said with a weary sigh.

"General Yen nodded with a weary sigh."

"Not at all. I assure you that such vulgar emotions as jealousy and revenge played no part in my decision. I am having Mah-Li eliminated because she had been revealing military secrets to my enemies."

"General Yen bowed for the Chinese girl. She pleaded passionately and wholeheartedly. Finally,

General Yen, overcome by her eloquence and sincerity, yielded—partially.

If Megan would be a hostage for Mah-Li's future loyalty, he would give her another chance.

Megan scowled—then agreed.

"How long have you been in China?"

said Megan, coming to the rescue of Mah-Li.

"Longer than you have been anywhere, Miss Davis."

"Just what does financial advisor mean?"

"It means that I can squeeze more money out of this province than any man alive."

"Do you advise the General in other matters, too?"

"I certainly do," answered Schultz, with a meaning glance at Yen. "But I do not advise him to come to money; he's all ears."

He turned to Captain Li and said,

"If I talk in any country," grinned Schultz, "just wait and see how that box car full of money I got you is going to talk. A million dollars Mex. can speak in any language."

General Yen flashed him a look of amusement.

"I thought you asked me specifically not to mention that, Schultz?"

"What's the harm? We're all friends here," Schultz answered with a touch of sarcasm. "Besides, Mah-Li knows anyway."

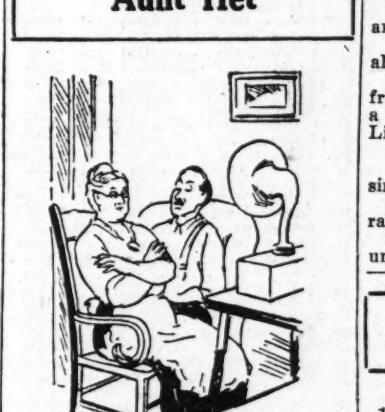

"Don't tell her."

Schultz looked at Captain Li intently.

"You're not the only one on this ranch who tells her things."

General Yen had Captain Li placed under arrest. To Schultz's query

By JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(P)—U.S.

Stock markets turned about today and rallied vigorously.

For stocks the improvement was slow but steady until the last hour, when shorts covered more aggressively, points into the market favorites.

For bonds leadership was supplied by federal issues, most of which made new highs. Cotton gained 90 cents to $2.50 a bale net.

Altogether, it was the market's best day in some weeks. Wall Street suddenly seemed to find itself with a variety of topics to talk about. Pic urging prominent in the market

the domestic inflation plan for farm communities, inflation gossip in and out of Washington, further proposals for and statements on government economy.

On the other hand, the dollar met with a setback in foreign exchange circles. Strength of European gold countries, notably French franc called similar attention in the past and our currency on the theory that this country was in some inflation.

The French monetary unit was up more than a point at the best.

It was assumed in some quarters that the treasury deficit figure the first half of the fiscal year had been a factor in the little "run" on dollars.

The return by shares was broad, though it was most impressive in stocks that were harboring the largest short interests. Farm implement is naturally responding to wheat's advance. Crops closing up more than 4 points and Harvey above 2.

Midwest returns from the steel industry were not particularly encouraging. Iron Age said December pig iron output was the smallest since

1898 and that steel manufacture had risen 1 percentage point to 14 percent of theoretical capacity, supported almost entirely by the plate and automobile orders.

Structural prospects are less favorable than a year ago, for it is expected public works projects will decline.

LONDON—Prices on the stock exchange were profit-taking generally, while oil and sugar levels, which fluctuated rapidly and closed lower, reflected the general trend. PARIS—The market opened on yesterday morning in Wall Street and less activity followed from Brussels and London. The closing was heavy.

BERLIN—Trading on the bourse was inactive and prices declined a few points in the second week on quiet trading settling in. German issues held steady.

Al Smith, Thousands Pay Tribute At Funeral of Belle Moskowitz

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith, his head bowed in grief, joined with 3,000 sorrowing New Yorkers today in paying final respect to the memory of Mrs. Bell Moskowitz, whose friendship and counsel had followed him for two decades of political activity.

From humble homes on the East Side and from places high in the offices of the state and nation, shawled mourners and dignitaries alike came to Temple Emanuel at Fifth avenue and Sixty-first street to attend funeral services for the noted woman, and later followed the body to its resting place in the Sleepy Hollow cemetery in Tarrytown.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, a life-long friend, of the free synagogue, officiated.

The former governor and democratic presidential candidate in 1928 sat with his wife near the stricken family and was visibly affected throughout the services. Frequently he wiped the tears from his eyes and it was noted that the floor-decked casket was lifted from its place and carried down the aisle of the massive synagogue that he trusted himself to lift his face.

Dr. Henry L. Moskowitz and his stepsons, Josef and Carlos Israels, sons of Mrs. Moskowitz, comprised the stricken family.

Other notables attending were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president-elect; John J. Raskob, former chairman of the democratic national committee; Judge Irving Lehman, of the court of appeals; Senator Herbert H. Lehman; Robert Moses, chairman of the state council of parks, and Herbert Bayard Swope.

Mrs. Moskowitz followed last Monday of a heart attack. The 35-year-old woman died in the arms of her husband early last month and had not recovered from a broken arm and other injuries suffered at that time.

Chicago Reports Drop In Robbers' 'Earnings'

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Crime isn't paying so well any more in Chicago.

The "earnings" of burglars and hoodlums, exclusive of automobile thefts, fell from $4,115,156 in 1931 to $2,707,109 in 1932, the police department reported. Automobile thefts were not included.

FOX SUIT SETTLED

SAYS MANAGER LEIDE

Enrico Leide, manager of the Fox theater, announced Wednesday that attorneys for the theater had been in conference with attorneys for the First Division Exchanges, distributors for the pictures, to determine what date an agreement had been reached whereby the special receiver for this week's receipts at the Fox theater, appointed by order of the court, had been discharged.

"Gonna Goona" was billed to show at the Fox for this week, but the Atlanta Board of Review, of which Mrs. Almon Richardson, is secretary, banned it as unsuitable for Atlanta showing, whereupon the distributors sued the Fox theater and the court ordered a receiver for the week's receipts pending settlement of the suit.

COUNTERFEITING PLANT IS SEIZED IN CANADA

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—(UP)—Seizure near Shawinigan Falls of a large counterfeiting plant and of all allied operations disclosed today that police on both sides of the international line have been on the trail of the men whose operations were undoubtedly international and who were turned over to the Canadian and both of Canada and the United States.

The arrest on the American side last night of a suspected counterfeit, arriving by airplane from Canada, further evidence of the interlocking, officials said.

The complaints date back several weeks, resulting from people victimized with counterfeit twenties and tens and said to be fair reproductions, but easily enough detected by experts.

HASTON RENOMINATED AT TENNESSEE CAUCUS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Nelson N. Haston was renominated tonight for his fourth consecutive term as speaker of the state of Tennessee over William McCallum, Covington lawyer, at a caucus of democratic members of the general assembly. Nominations for comptroller and treasurer were made by acclamation. Indorsement by the democratic caucus is equivalent to election.

James J. Bean, Lynchburg lawyer, former state senator and chairman of the speaker's bureau in democratic state headquarters during the recent campaign, was selected for state treasurer, and Roy C. Wallace was renominated for state comptroller. Both terms are for two years.

LIBERAL RATE FOR 1929—A PREFERRED RATE FOR 1933

5% INTEREST

In the Morris Plan of Industrial Banking paid five per cent interest to its thrifit members in this community...the same rate it had paid for a good many years without change or without interruption...today, in 1933, that 5% rate is still being paid, with regularity, with certainty...and that is the record that has earned the confidence with which this institution is held.

Looking at it another way, that five per cent figures a good deal higher in these times when the dollar is buying so much more than the dollar of three years ago...of food, for example, the dollar today will buy 60 per cent more than the dollar of 1929.
